Week-End Specials In Which We Feature Moderately Priced Merchandise

WE have proven beyond question that "The White House" this season is showing the largest assemblage of high grade garments ever brought to El Paso. Now, we propose to prove beyond question that nowhere in El Paso will you find as desirable ready-to-wear at a nominal price as here. Our first move in this direction begins tomorrow. The following items in ready-to-wear have just as good style as those at a higher price. We also state positively that nowhere else in El Paso can you possibly obtain as desirable garments as these at anything like the prices at which we quote them.

ROSS FAILS TO GET BONDS REDUCED

L. E. Ross, V. L. Snyder and C. P. Pitman, indicted on a charge of robbery by the use of firearms, growing out of the alleged Hotel McCoy holdup, filed an application in the 34th district court Friday morning to have their bonds reduced. Snyder was the only defendant who was successful, his bond being reduced from $2500 to $1000. The bonds of Ross at $2500, and that of Pitman, at $750, fixed by the court at a previous habeas corpus proceeding, remain the same.

ADDITIONAL ARRESTS MADE ON RESERVATION CHARGES
Lewis Vidal, Leona Reid, Sam Dudley and Cora Wilson were arrested Thursday afternoon on "reservation" indictments returned by the grand jury. In all there were eight indictments returned against Vidal. All the defendants arrested were released on $400 bonds in each case, pending their trial, which will come in the county court.
